WATERFRONT PARK, SAN DIEGO, CA

PUBLIC ART MURALS

The $49.4-million project converted eight acres of parking lot around the county building into a community plaza, the centerpiece of which is an impressive interactive fountain that features jets of water shooting in arches. To replace the lost public parking, the county added a large, subterranean garage at the south end of the park. The main entrances to the parking garage were designated for large-scale reproductions of abstract paintings by San Diego artists Harold Cohen and Allison Renshaw.

The Artefact team provided planning, exhibit design, and fabrication/ installation coordination. Panel fabrication by Gopher Signs, Inc. Installation by ArtWorks San Diego. Installed 2014.
